EDGEFIELD C. H.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17, 1844.

"We will cling to the Pillars of the Temple of our Liberties, and if it must fall, we will perish amidst the ruins."

¶ We are requested to state that the Cambridge Agricultural Society, will hold its Anniversary meeting on the first Friday in May next, at which time, it is expected, that the Hon. F. W. Pickens will deliver an Address.

¶ We are indebted to the politeness of the Hon. A. Burt, for several public documents during the past week.

¶ The weather for the last eight or ten days has been extremely warm and dry for the season. The gardens are suffering for rain. The fruit trees, which we had feared was ruined by the frost, are in a flourishing condition, and, barring accidents, we shall have a plentiful supply of fruit.

¶ Mr. Cgalle, has been appointed, by Mr. Calhoun, Chief Clerk in the Department of State.

¶ The Senate of Louisiana has found Judge Elliot guilty of the charges preferred against him, and unanimously resolved, that he be forthwith removed from his office, and that it be considered vacant from the 6th inst.

Appointments.—The Hon. Wm. R. King, U. S. Senator from Alabama, has been appointed Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to France, and Governor Shannon, of Ohio, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Mexico, to succeed Gen. Thompson.

Texas Treaty.—The Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier, under date of the 9th inst., states that "the Texas Treaty is nearly ready. It has been subjected to Mr. Calhoun's revision. It will be laid before the Senate in a few days."

Cotton.—Our exchanges give the following as the prices of Cotton in their respective markets:

Charleston.	April 13.	6 1/4 a 8 1/2 cts

Wm. C. Goodwain.—This worthy Professor of Chirography, and "Teacher to the King and Queen of Great Britain," has been advertised in the South Carolinian, as "One Cent Recard," for receiving the tuition fee, in advance, from nearly four pupils, in Columbia, and making off with it, forgetting to pay his room rent. Wonder if he has paid the Printer?

Death of General Lewis.—The N. Y. Courier and Enquirer of the 8th inst., contains an account of the death of General Morgan Lewis, of that State, aged ninety years. General L. took an active part in both the contests which our country has been engaged in with Great Britain. At the time of his decease he was Grand Master of the Masonic fraternity in the State of New York, and President of the General Society of the Cincinnati.

Mr. Clay.—The Charleston correspondent of the South Carolinian, under date of the 9th inst., gives the following account of Mr. Clay's reception on his arrival in that city:

"Mr. Clay is here. He arrived on Saturday last at half past two o'clock, by the Rail Road from your city. No trouble or expense had been spared by his friends to make his entry into Charleston as imposing as possible, and the crowd drawn together was consequently large. I am not disposed to derogate from the appearance of his escort. It was respectable enough, and except a body of sailors, mostly foreigners, and said to have been hired for the occasion, would perhaps have been unobjectionable. After being put down at the New Theatre, he delivered a speech of two hours length which I did not hear, and was then taken to the residence of Dr. Porcher, where he abides during his stay. In the evening a meeting of the Clay Club took place, to which the citizens generally were invited. Mr. Preston made an address of nearly two hours—principally made up of eulogies on Mr. Clay, and some severe remarks on Mr. Van Buren, and President Tyler. He denounced Democracy in measured terms, and occasionally gave Mr. Calhoun some home thrusts. During one of these an alarm of fire was raised, and created considerable disturbance, but fortunately proved a false one. By some it was thought designed to let Mr. P. know he was treading on ticklish ground, before an audience consisting chiefly of Democrats. Whether he took it as such or not, he did not again allude to Mr. Calhoun. A Ball was given to Mr. Clay last evening at the Charleston Hotel. And this afternoon he is to embark for Wilmington in the Mail Steamer. Peace go with him."

The Masonic Trestle Board, a work recently issued under the direction and superintendence of the General Masonic Convention, recently held at Baltimore, is on sale at A. E. Miller's Book Store, Broad Street. It should be in the possession of every Master Mason, desirous of becoming conversant with the forms and ceremonies of Ancient Free-Masonry.—Chas. Courier.

Suicide.—We learn from the Coroner that a soldier of the U. S. Arsenal near this city, committed suicide on the night of Wednesday last. His name was James Dobbins. The jury, summoned by the Coroner, brought in a verdict that the deceased came to his death by cutting his throat with a butcher knife. The causes unknown to the jury.—Aug. Cons.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Dead Dogs.—We understand that a young lady of our town, not long since, was considerably frightened by meeting a dead dog in the street. We think that our vigilant and praiseworthy Town Council, should put a stop to this wandering about of dead carcasses. It is hard for our young ladies cannot walk the streets, without being subject to the fear of being "met by a dead dog."

Editor of the Hamburg Journal:

Sir—You will excuse us, we hope, for intruding upon your valuable time. You support Mr. Clay, and doubtless have good reasons for doing so. You desire the State to support him, and therefore will, we presume, eagerly embrace an opportunity which we now offer you, to furnish information as to his principles, and thereby remove the prejudices entertained by some of our citizens against him.

1. Does Mr. Clay, or not, admit that Congress has the constitutional right to impose duties for the protection of Northern Manufacturers?
2. Is he in favor of establishing a National Bank?
3. Is he in favor of the reception of Abolition Petitions?
4. Is he in favor of a Distribution of the Proceeds of the sales of the Public Lands?
5. Is he in favor of a system of Internal Improvements by the Federal Government?
6. Is he in favor of restricting or abolishing the "Veto" power in the President?
7. Is he supported by the Whig or the Democratic Party?
8. Should a candidate be held responsible for the conduct of his party?

We respectfully beg that you will give full, explicit, and candid answers to the above interrogatories

Fire.—A Fire occurred on Thursday night last, between 10 and 11 o'clock, in a Stable on Gates street, in the rear of the Catholic Church, which, together with a small dwelling house adjoining, owned by Mr. L. D. Kingsbury, was entirely consumed. Through the exertion of the citizens and the Engine Companies the flames were prevented from extending farther.—South Carolinian.

From the Temperance Advocate.
TO THE PEOPLE OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

The Executive Committee of the State Temperance Society, have employed the Rev. JOHN CULPEPER, to travel through the State, Lecture on Temperance, and organize Temperance Societies. Mr. C's zeal in this good cause has induced him to forego a more lucrative business, to devote himself to it. His qualifications are ample. He will not fail to instruct and please all classes. It is believed he can do a great deal in persuading people to be sober, and especially so, if the friends of Temperance will cordially, and actively co-operate with him.

Mr. Culpeper is a poor man, with a large family to support. It is hoped wherever he may go, that provision will be made to give him a sum sufficient to defray his expenses, and to compensate him for his time.

It is desirable that sections of the country, or Temperance Societies needing his services, should so arrange meetings, that he can conveniently attend them. His address is Willsborough, where all communications addressed to him, (the postage being paid,) will be received, and immediately answered.

JOHN BELTON O'NEALL,
Pres't. of the S. Tem. Socy.

Georgia & South Carolina Rail Road.—Early in January last we noticed the unrivalling irregularity in the arrival of the cars on these two roads, which, during a period of four months from the 1st of September to the 1st of January, had failed to arrive at their destination in proper time only four times—twice on each road—all of which has been produced by some slight derangement of the machinery, which in each instance delayed them only a few hours beyond their regular time.

We have now another opportunity of noticing a fact still more extraordinary, and which, in connection with the former, establishes most conclusively the superior management of these two roads, above any in the United States, and perhaps the world, for regularity in the performance of the trips of the passenger and small trains. Since the 1st of January to this time, a period of more than three months, but two failures have been made on these two roads, one on each. That on the Charleston road was caused by the blocking up of the road by another train which had run off in consequence of the misplacing of a switch, and the one on the Georgia road by the slide of a quantity of the earth into a deep cut after a heavy rain. When, therefore, it is recollected, that the passenger cars pass over each of these roads twice a day, an aggregate distance of four hundred and eighty-two miles, daily, two hundred and ten of which, on the Georgia road, are passed entirely in the night, it is certainly the most astonishing feat in the history of railroad travel on record—and we may well challenge any other road in the world, either long or short, to accomplish a like performance! Only six failures in seven months, or in four hundred and thirty trips!—Aug. Chron.

The Court of Sessions and Common Pleas commenced its Spring term at this place on Monday last, Judge Evans presiding. This Summary Process docket has not been so small for many years as it is the present term, the whole number of cases amounting to only about one hundred, and several of those from other Districts. There were some suits postponed last Fall, however, that are expected to be tried this week, which will occupy so much time that an adjournment will probably not take place before Saturday. The Session docket was about as lengthy as usual, most of the indictments being for Assault and Battery. A man by the name of Jordan was tried for stealing a horse from Mr. John M. Cureton at this place on Saturday in March last, and the Jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty."—Greenville Mountaineer, April 12.

Hot Weather.—During the last six or eight days, we have had unusually warm weather for the season of year—the Thermometer ranging from 80 to 83 degrees in the shade, every day. As we have had no rain for some time, the streets have become quite dusty and uncomfortable.—Vegetation has recently put forth very rapidly, and the forest trees will soon be clothed in "living green." The crops of wheat and other small grain look uncommonly promising, but for several years past, they have been so uncertain, and depend upon so many contingencies, that no calculations can be made of the yield, with any degree of certainty, until after harvest. If there should be no more frost this Spring, we shall have an abundant supply of fruit, of every kind.—Ibid.

The Richmond Enquirer says: "We understand, that the celebrated Littleton W. Tazewell, of Norfolk, addressed the people of Nansemond a few days ago—declared the deep interest in which he felt in the pending Presidential Election—condemned, in stirring terms, the course of Mr. Clay—admonished upon the proposition to make him a Committee-man, to do honors of reception to Mr. Clay—and declared his decided preference for Mr. Van Buren, over Mr. Clay."

The One Day.—What has become of the Bill fixing one day throughout the U. States for the electors to meet in their several States and vote for a President and Vice President? It may be called a bill to perpetuate the Union of the States, for its consequences will be to prevent fraud—to allay political excitement—to prevent extraneous influence—to put down "pipe laying," and colonizing, and establishing forever the freedom and purity of election. Why should a good bill like this sleep—a bill against which neither party objects—a bill, in the peculiar crisis which our country is situated, of incalculable value and importance? Why not call it up and pass it.—N. Y. Sun.

MARRIED.

On the 4th inst. by the Rev. Mr. Peterson, Mr. ELIJAH C. STILL, to Miss SARAH C. MURRELL, all of this District.

OBITUARY.

Died, at the residence of her mother, (Mrs J. M. Blocker,) on Saturday the 6th inst., Mrs. SARAH S. HENDERSON, consort of Mr. Nathaniel Henderson in the 17th year of her age.

It may be truly said of her, "none knew her but to love her." At the age of eight years she attached herself to the Baptist Church, since when she has been a pious and exemplary member of the same. She bore a protracted illness with complete Christian resignation, retaining the full possession of her reason up to the last moment of her existence. A very short time previous to her departure, she addressed herself to her kind and devoted companion, and collected, and with every degree of composure, bade him an affectionate farewell, at the same time stating to him, that there were many ties to bind her to earth, but it was far better for her to depart and be with Christ. She then in like manner, addressed herself separately to those of her friends who were around her bed. After which time, she requested to be placed in that position in which she would die the easiest, frequently requesting of her medical attendants, up to her last moments, to tell her how long yet before she would reach the better world. Frequently has it been the lot of the author of this feeble tribute of respect and affection, to witness the termination of frail mortality, and often has it been cheered by the last moments of the dying Christian, but never in any instance has he witnessed such complete resignation and submission to the will of God, as in this.

But one short year ago she was a happy bride, and now she is gone, gone from a world of sin and suffering, to the paradise of God, to join with the millions of redeemed, in giving glory, honor and praise to Him who took the sting from Death, the victory from the Grave: "What could afflictions wish, In all its fondest ecstasy of hope, Ask for a loved one, like the gift of Heaven." J.

¶ The Rev. Dr. JOHNSON, takes occasion to correct the mistake, which he understands is abroad, in relation to the number of Boarders in his family, for the EDGEFIELD FEMALE ACADEMY. The present number does not fill his house. Many more can be accommodated.

¶ We are authorized to announce DANIEL HOLLAND, Esq., a candidate for a seat in the House of Delegates, at the ensuing election.

Commercial.

HAMBURG, April 9.
Cotton.—The receipts of Cotton for the last week have been light, owing to the engagement of planters at home in preparing for, and sowing their crops. We notice, however, that there is quite an animation among buyers, but at low rates, and we hope that the market will resume its usual activity in a few more days, though we do not look for very high rates. Prices are now as much too low, as they were too high previous to the last accounts from Europe; and as a natural consequence, they must advance, unless we have discouraging news by the next arrival. Taking every thing into consideration, we are of the opinion that holders, provided they can breathe a few months longer, will realize much better profits, than at the present going rates; and we think that speculation as well as business, will receive an impetus next year, which will make prospects wear another appearance to what they now present to those who are down in the mouth. Prices to-day, range from 6 to 7 1/2 cts.—principal sales 7 1/2 to 7 3/4 cts., with an upward tendency. We look for an advance on last week's prices of at least 1/4 cent by next Tuesday; in fact the market has experienced full 1/4 cent since this day week. The New York market seems to be very favorable to holders. On the 3d inst. there was much activity in that market, and the improved feeling noticed the previous results, resulted in an advance of about 1/4 ct. per lb. on the lowest point of depression. So we advise our friends not to be discouraged.—Journal.

Augusta, April 4.
Cotton.—The receipts during the week have been very light. Since our weekly notice, a better feeling has sprung up, and from the extreme depression then remarked a more buoyant and animated disposition has been gradualy regained, and a greater degree of confidence imparted to the entire class of operators. The cotton offered is readily disposed of at the following quotations which are a quarter of a cent better than the prices of the previous week.

The principal causes of this change are, doubtless, to be found in the advance of the New York market, and the general conviction that prices have reached their lowest ebb. The extremes of the market we quote at from 5 1/2 to 7 1/2. Principal sales at from 5 1/2 to 7 1/2 cents.—Const.

COLUMBIA, April 11.
Cotton.—There is but little doing in the article, in consequence of the small quantity coming in; but there is a better feeling in the market than for some time past, and since the late favorable advices from New York, prices have advanced 1/4 a cent per lb. on those to which they had fallen during the week, and 1-8 a 1/4 on those quoted in our last report. We now, therefore quote them at 6 a 8 1/4 cents, extremes—most sales at 6 1/2 a 7 1/2 cents.—Carolinian.

Allum Spring Pills,
For the Cure of Dyspepsia, Scrofulus and Liver Diseases.

THESE PILLS are prepared by Dr. S. R. CAMPBELL, from the water of the highly celebrated Mineral Springs in Rockbridge county Virginia, called the Alum Springs.

These Pills, like the water from which they are prepared, are a diuretic, promoting the secretion of urine and an alterative, increasing the secretions of the glandular system generally, and particularly of the liver. They act gently, but effectually upon the bowels, after two or three days' use of them, producing copious dark, bilious evacuation.

They also effect a determination to the surface, increasing the perspiration; therefore, they are a great purifier of the blood, and equalizer of the circulation. Each pill is equal to a common glass of the water. They should be taken before each meal, and from six to ten or twelve should be taken in the course of each day, for a fortnight, and then omit them for the same period. For the cure of the above diseases, perseverance in the use of these Pills, is all important; and if they are perseveringly used, every alternate fortnight, a cure may more certainly be expected, than under any other treatment heretofore discovered, except from the use of the water, from which they are prepared; either by an attendance at the Springs or otherwise.

They very speedily cure diarrhoeas, attended with acidity of the stomach, and are a very useful remedy for the summer bowel complaint in children, as also for expelling worms from children. From one to four should be given in three equal portions each day, to a child under six years, according to age. When given to children, they should be powdered and mixed with syrup. These Pills are easily taken, having no nauseous taste, are perfectly safe in all cases, where active fever does not exist, and do not sicken persons while using them.

Dyspepsia.
TO soothe the sufferings of humanity, to ameliorate the pangs of disease, is the grand object of medical science. This is efficiently demonstrated in the healing virtues of DR. BENJAMIN BRANDRETH'S PILLS. The cures effected by this medicine would fill volumes.

Views on Indigestion as a source of various Undefined and Irregular Nervous Sensations. "Ils, small at first, grow larger from delay. And slowly eat their sad and cankerous way; Thus by successive throes, the frame is torn, 'Till health and peace of mind alike are gone." The nerves of the human body—those necessary and mysterious agents which immediately connect man with external nature—are singularly prone to have their functions disordered by an oppressed condition of the stomach; the minute termination of that portion of the nerves expanded upon the organs of digestion conveying the morbid impression to the Brain. And although the Head can, undoubtedly, like other organs, be the seat of primary disorder, yet, in the great majority of cases, the uneasy sensations there experienced are symptomatic of disordered Stomach; and further, there is abundant evidence to prove that erudition in the Stomach and Bowels can, in every grade of human existence give rise to spasmodic action in every organ of the body; and whether we survey it in the agonising form of Tic Douloureux—the alarming convulsions of the Epileptic seizure—or in that irritable condition of the nerves of the heart occasioning nervous palpitation—they can all frequently be traced to the source above mentioned, and be cured by mild evacuant and tonic remedies. To relieve a state of so much suffering and distress (in which body and mind also participate) BRANDRETH PILLS are confidently recommended; as, by combining aromatic tonic and cleansing properties, they remove all oppressive accumulations, strengthen the Stomach, induce a healthy appetite, and impart tranquility to the nervous system: and in fact, by their general purifying power upon the blood, exert a most beneficial influence in all cases of disease. Read the following.

DYSPEPSIA CURED.

BENNINGTON, Vt. Dec. 5th, 1843.
Dear Sir—I wish you to add my testimony to the fact of others that you have, in favor of your valuable Pills. In the year of 1833, I was attacked with that disagreeable complaint, the DYSPEPSIA, which so affected me that I could not take the least particle of food, without the most unpleasant and uncomfortable sensations in my chest, head and bowels. My chest was so sore that I could not bear the slightest pressure without giving me pain. My health was most miserable; many physicians told me they thought I was in the consumption, and that if I did not give up my business, and change climate, I could live but a short time. I tried every thing in the shape of medicine, and consulted with most skillful physicians, but found no permanent relief. I became discouraged, gloomy, sad, and sick of life: and, probably, ere this, should have been in my grave, had I not felt in with your precious medicine. A friend of mine, who had been sick of the same complaint, advised me to try your pills; but, having tried some other medicines without obtaining any relief, had but little faith that your Pills would be of benefit to me; but, at my earnest solicitations, I procured a box and commenced taking them.

The first box produced little or no effect, and I began to despond, for fear that your medicine would prove like others I have taken; but my friends argued that one was not a fair trial, and I purchased a second, and before I had taken the whole box I began to experience a change; the pain in my chest began to be less painful, and my food did not distress me as much as formerly. I went on taking them until I had taken six boxes, and my DYSPEPSIA was cured, and my expectation of an early death, vanished, and I felt a "new creature." I was then, and am now, a healthy man. I have never since been troubled with the Dyspepsia. I have administered your Pills to the members of my family, and to my friends, and in all cases with good success. You can publish this if it will be of any use to you. I am, dear Sir, truly yours,
